Carvana is the new way to buy a car, putting the customer in control of the purchase process. By ditching the dealership and shopping online, Carvana customers save valuable time and money. All vehicles are Carvana Certified, have undergone a rigorous 150-point inspection, have no frame damage and have never been in a reported accident. Features, imperfections and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on the car's vehicle description page. Additionally, to ensure the vehicle fits the customer's life, every Carvana vehicle comes with a seven-day return policy, instead of a 10-minute test drive around the dealership block.

"Since launching our free, as-soon-as-next-day delivery in Pittsburgh in 2016, we've continued to explore ways to grow our presence in the state," said Ernie Garcia, founder and CEO of Carvana. "Harrisburg, Lancaster, Allentown and York-Hanover are cities that are important to that growth, and we're eager to show them the new way to buy a car."

Carvana debuted in Pennsylvania in October 2016, offering free, as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery to Pittsburgh area customers. In March 2017 Carvana launched in the Philadelphia market. Now, with a presence in Harrisburg, Lancaster, Allentown and York-Hanover, Carvana is bringing the new way to buy a car to six Pennsylvania cities, and more than 70 cities nationwide.
