Carvana customers save valuable time and money with The New Way to Buy a Car® by skipping the dealership and shopping online. And Carvana never charges hidden, bogus fees like "documentation fees," which can often be added to the price of a vehicle at the last minute. Customers looking to trade in their vehicle, or sell a vehicle, can also skip the dealership by simply entering their VIN or license plate number on Carvana.com, answer a few questions and Carvana can pick up the vehicle and bring them a check, as soon as the next day.

All 30,000+ vehicles in Carvana's national inventory are photographed in 360 degrees, so customers get a high-definition virtual tour, along with the peace of mind of a seven-day return policy. This upgrade to the traditional test drive gives customers the time to ensure their vehicle fits their lifestyle, whether taking it on a day trip to Crater Lake, or seeing how your new-to-you ride handles an Autzen Stadium tailgate before a Ducks game.

"Today's debut in Oregon means we can offer as-soon-as-next-day delivery on thousands of vehicles to Eugene area residents, giving them a great selection, at great prices, with great customer service," said Ernie Garcia, founder and CEO of Carvana. "Whether it be an Audi R8 or something more family friendly like a Subaru Forester, we're confident Eugene customers will appreciate the easy, transparent experience that comes with The New Way to Buy a Car®."

Carvana now offers as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery to customers in 283 cities across the U.S.

About Carvana (NYSE: CVNA)

Founded in 2012 and based in Phoenix, Carvana's (NYSE: CVNA) mission is to change the way people buy cars.
