Carvana customers can save valuable time and money with The New Way to Buy a Car® by skipping the dealership and shopping online. As the pioneer of online car buying, Carvana gives customers a high-definition, 360-degree virtual tour of every vehicle, inside and out. Carvana vehicles have passed a rigorous 150-point inspection, have never been in a reported accident and have no frame damage. Features, imperfections, and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on every car's vehicle description page.

Customers can also trade in or sell a vehicle by simply entering their VIN or license plate number on Carvana.com, answering a few questions, and Carvana can pick the vehicle up and bring them a check, as soon as the next day.

All 45,000+ vehicles in Carvana's national inventory come with a seven-day return policy—an upgrade to the traditional test-drive—ensuring customers have time to determine if the vehicle fits their lifestyle. By living with their vehicle for a week, customers can do everything from test out the highway fuel efficiency of their newly purchased crossover on a weekend road trip, to simply take it for a spin through town, and possibly even a stop by the National Automobile Museum.

"We look forward to giving residents of the Biggest Little City the ability to skip the dealership experience and take back their weekends," said Ernie Garcia, Carvana founder and CEO. "We're confident the community will embrace the ease and transparency we offer, being able to shop thousands of vehicles at great prices with as-soon-as-next-day delivery."

Carvana now offers as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery to customers in 302 cities across the U.S.
